Going to party can be fun and enjoyable. If you are invited to a party, you should call the host up early to inform him/her of whether you are going. If you want to bring someone who has not been invited along with you, you should ask for permission first. Remember to dress appropriately for the party. If you are not sure what to wear, do ask your host.

During the party, you can help the host by offering to serve drinks or wash the dishes. Your host would certainly appreciate these efforts. If you happen to be in a party you do not know anyone, do not try to monopolize the host's attention because your host cannot spend all his/her time with you. Instead, learn to communicate with others at the party. You could try breaking the ice by introducing yourself to someone who is friendly-looking.

Before you leave the party, remember to thank your host first. If you have the time, you could even offer to help your host clean up the place.

Questions:

1. What should we do if we are invited to a party?
2. What can we help the host during the party?
3. Should we move around and talk to other guests if we are in a party?
4. What does the phrase "breaking the ice" in the passage mean?

II. Read the passage and write T for the true statements and F for the false ones. (1,0 point)

The ao dai, the traditional dress of Vietnamese women, has a long history. In the early 17th century, Vietnamese clothing designers made changes to the design of the traditional Chinese costume, creating the primitive forms of the present ao dai. This creativity showed Vietnam's strong sense of independence. The ao dai, with different designs and materials, was traditionally worn by both men and women. Over the years, despite the coming of western clothing for more convenience in daily activities of modern life, the ao dai has been there to stay. Therefore, Vietnamese women go on wearing this unique dress, which is both traditional and fashionable and which conveys our rich culture to the world.
