Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D to indicate the correct answer to each of the questions that follow.

In the past, traveling was nothing less than a daring adventure. There were no roads. There was none of the mechanical transport we have now. People travelled on foot. They had faced all sorts of dangers from the weather, wild beasts and robbers. Most people therefore did not like to go away from their villages. Only those who were adventurous set out on a long journey. They travelled in groups.

When man succeeded in training the four-foot animals like the horse and the camel, traveling became slightly comfortable. Still it was a dangerous undertaking. Only a few ventured out of their homes. In those days, it was also very difficult to transport goods from one place to another. In the earliest days, man carried his load on his head or back. Later, horses and other such animals were used for this purpose. But the man and the animals could not carry very heavy loads from one place to another.

Now people living in any part of a country can travel to any other part in comfort. Every country has a network to railways. A small sum of money is required to go from one corner of the country to another. If your business is more urgent, you can travel by an aero plane. A plane will need only a couple of days to fly round the whole world. The travel by sea also has become more comfortable, swifter and more secure than before. Giant steamers have replaced the ancient boat and sailing ships.

I started learning English when I was 14 years old after five years of studying Russian. In the beginning I encountered __(24)__ difficulties learning the languages, but I tried my best to __(25)__ them. Firstly, my English pronunciation was affected by the way I spoke Russian. To solve this problem, I practiced by listening to tapes in English everyday. I played the tape, stopped after each sentence and repeated the sentence several times. At school, I joined an English speaking club which was organized by a teacher from Britain. She understood my difficulty and helped me very much improve my pronunciation. __(26)__, I found it really hard to learn English vocabulary. In Russian, the way you write the word is the way you pronounce it. __(27)__, English spelling is often different from its pronunciation. To get over this difficulty I started using the dictionary. Whenever I learn a new word, I looked it up __(28)__ in the dictionary. Then I tried to remember the way to read and write the word. After that, I wrote the word down several times in a notebook.
